

Weighbridge Communications like never before!

The CWIS is an intercom system that allows the weighbridge operator to make hands-free communications with the drivers on the weighbridge, without having to open and close the window every time a driver passes. The CWIS consists of a desktop console inside of the office, and a waterproof hands-free microphone and speaker secured to the outside of the building. Our highly convenient intercom system also comes with features such as volume control, hands-free Foot PTT, UPSU battery backup, and the possibility of linking your Cotel radio network to the CWIS. Our intercom systems helps prevent the spread of covid and makes weighbridge communications more convenient than ever before!
